

Frozen Thompson-sampled HVI field versus weld thickness (iteration 130)

At every h station, the same 2048-point stratified Latin hypercube samples the uniform nuisance volume over (l, t, b) . The curves and survival statistics are conditional acquisition-field distributions, not isolated one-variable sensitivities.