

Frozen Thompson-sampled HVI field versus beam depth (iteration 130)

At every t station, the same 2048-point stratified Latin hypercube samples the uniform nuisance volume over (h, l, b). The curves and survival statistics are conditional acquisition-field distributions, not isolated one-variable sensitivities.